To begin is almost to end.

A day, a week, a year soon become memories of yesterday. To remember only the hectic pace of university life is to forget the essence of these years.

To recall only the quiet conversations,

the chance moments, the everyday scenes

is to seek refuge from reality. To place both in perspective is to receive the gift of education.

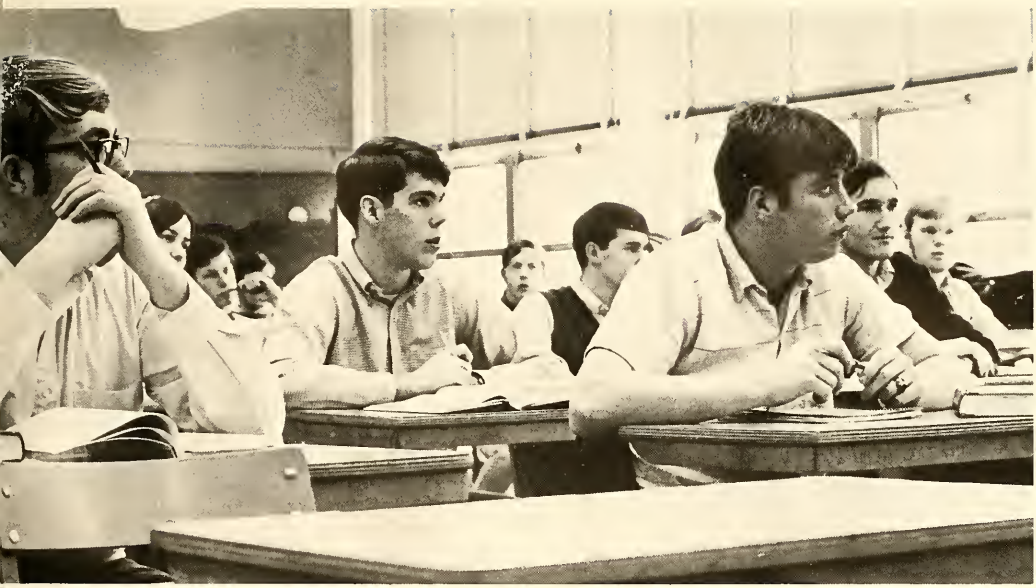
We cheer. We groan. We throw accolades at our heroes. And in the end, we too feel a part of the day.



We listen, we discuss,
we think. We respect the words of those who are here to guide us,
but we do not always agree with what is said.
Even in our disagreement
there is evidence of the search that has bought us here.

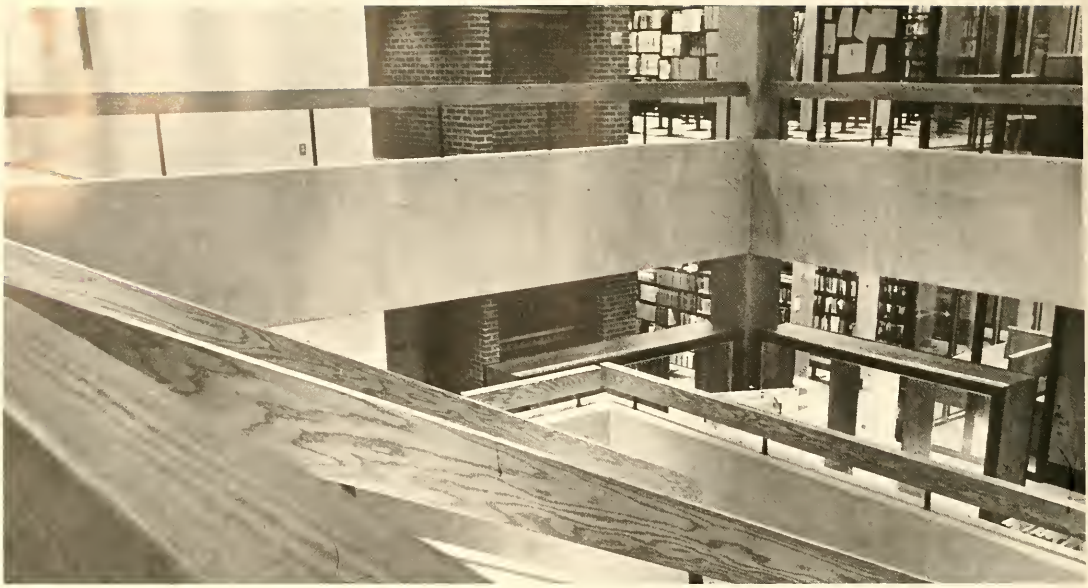
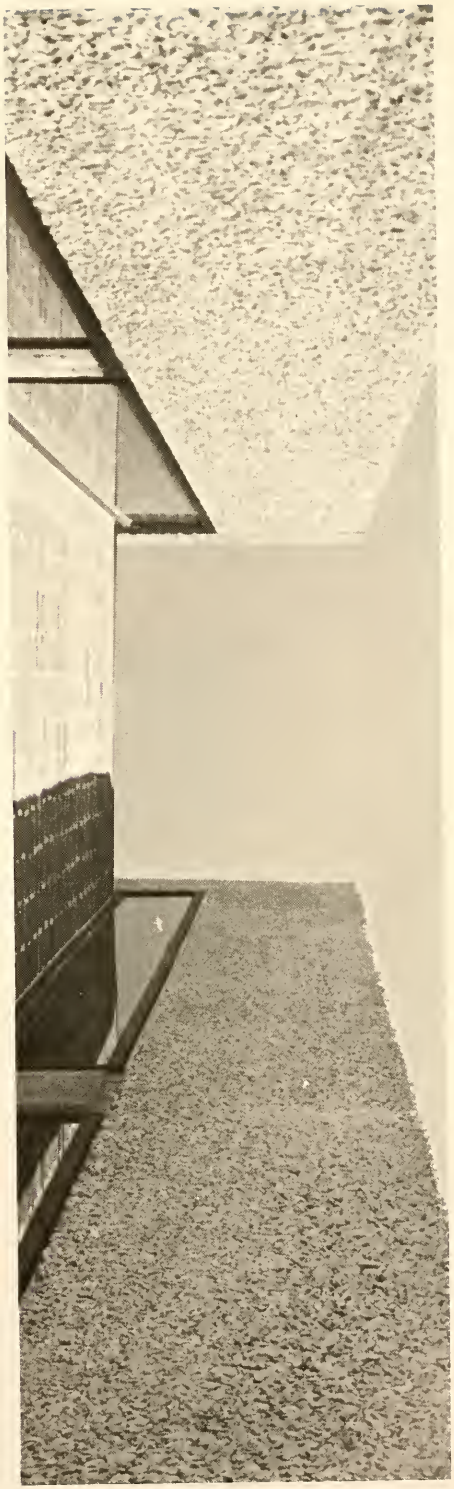
—Logos

The old. The new. Our ever-changing campus yields to the demands of the future, but cannot diminish the beauty of the past.





Here we seek knowledge, struggle and sometimes achieve. This lifeless shell of concrete excites the eye and evokes opinion. Its contents stimulate the mind and evoke thought.

We hear the hush
about us. We escape
the pressures of the day.
We need this time
when our thoughts may roam within us, and we possess that awareness of peace.

The satisfaction

of physical exertion

permits release.

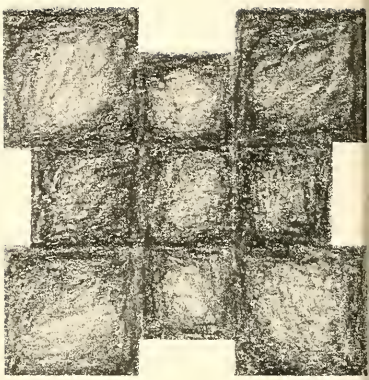
The spirit is evident,

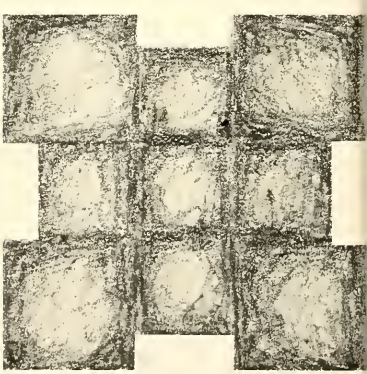
the rivalry apparent.

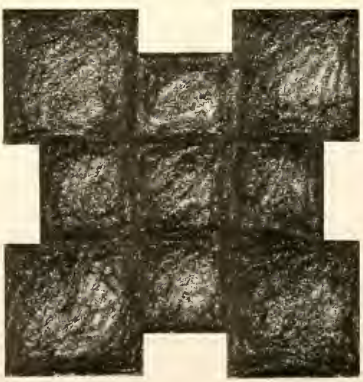
But competition bonded

by friendship, negates

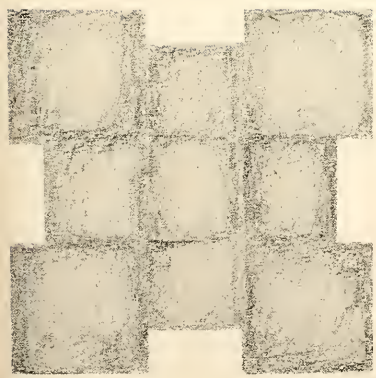
the importance of victory.







ACADEMICS



Robert S. Eckley,
President

Wesleyan

is a cohesive unit.

Its administrators

are affected

by its concerns and values

and are an expression of its character—

character represented

in a new leader.

A teacher who views
the classroom as a learning experience—
a process of discovery
for professor and student—stimulates our minds.
A friend who understands our objectives, anxieties, motivations, provides a source of strength.
A man who combines these qualities earns our respect and admiration.
We dedicate the 1969 Wesleyana
to Dr. Max A. Pape—both teacher and friend.

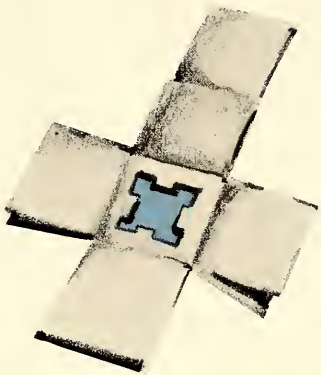
COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS



The search for knowledge is never futile nor is it ever complete. Causes are ours to pursue, to suggest. Our hypothesis remains contemplation of the unknown, application of the known.

The realm of science is a dynamic one. Each aspect continually striving for a broader more profound understanding.

To study, to gain knowledge through personal contact and ultimately to integrate ourselves into society in service. The progression of education toward its aim.

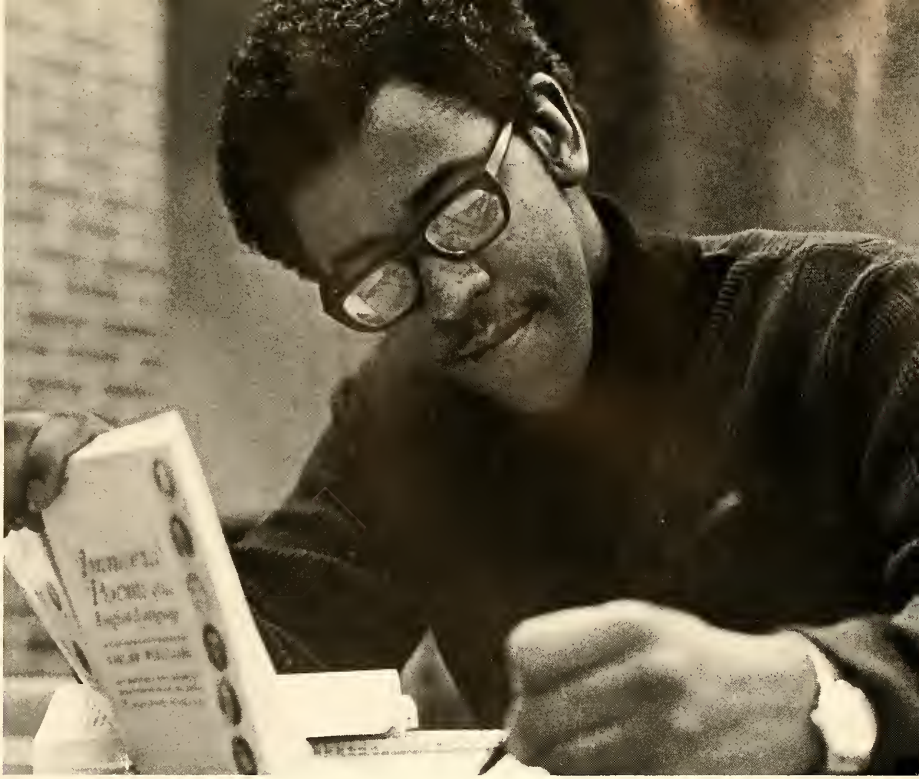
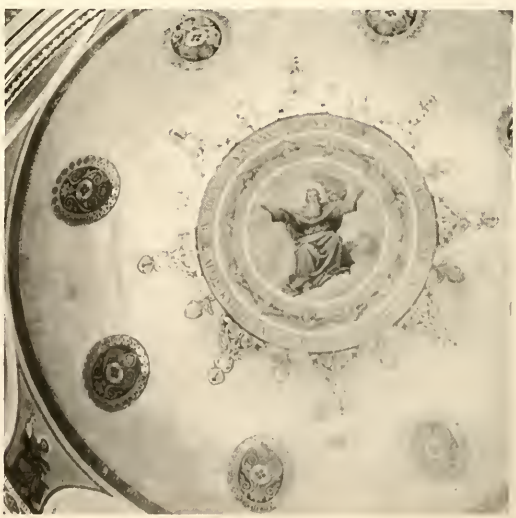
8-9
10

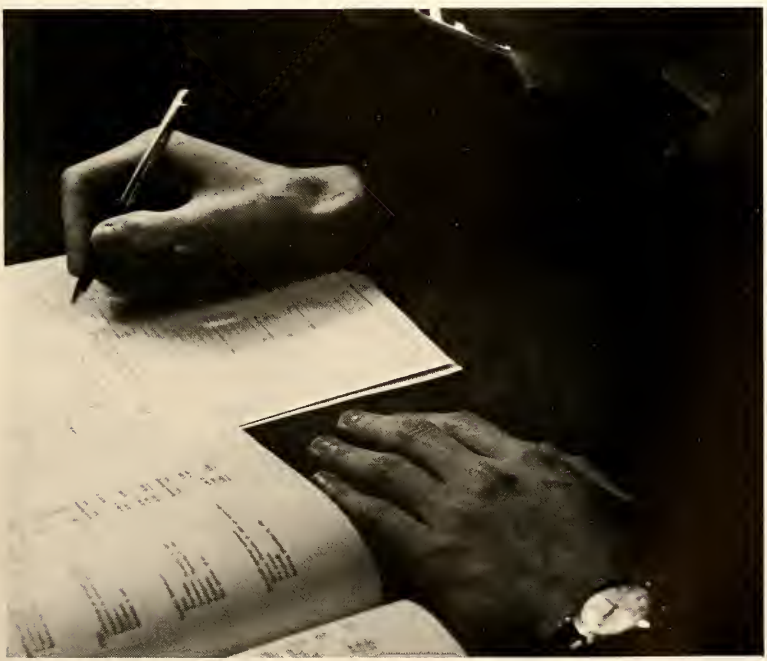
Ideas unexpressed are ideas unborne. Mastery of communication essential to understanding.



In seeking to become familiar with that which is strange to us, we go beyond our books and classrooms. Personal contact becomes the means by which we come to a more objective understanding.



From our preparation, our study, we gain a measure of proficiency. Our aim— a place in the business world of today.



The art of awakening the natural curiosity of young minds for the purpose of satisfying it later.

Short term—a vast world of sights and experiences.

No longer a distant dream

but reality for those who wish to venture out.

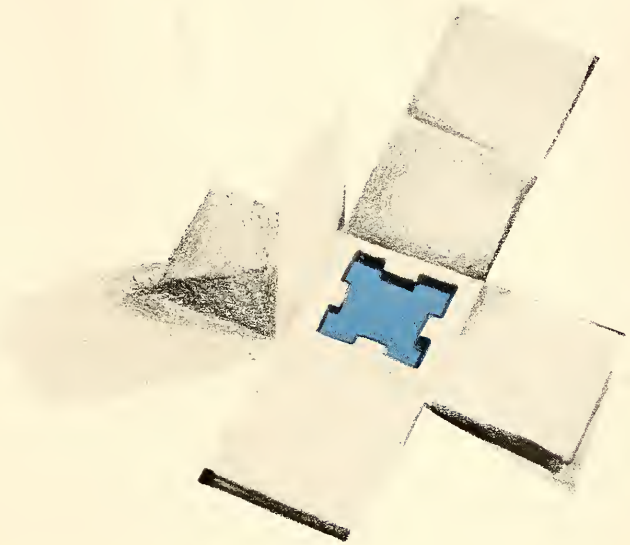
Involvement of the whole person.

We seek an education which exercises

both body and mind.

SCHOOL OF NURSING



Enriched by a diverse background, the collegiate nurse brings to the profession an understanding of the many facets of man.

A teacher in itself.

Our environment becomes an active agent

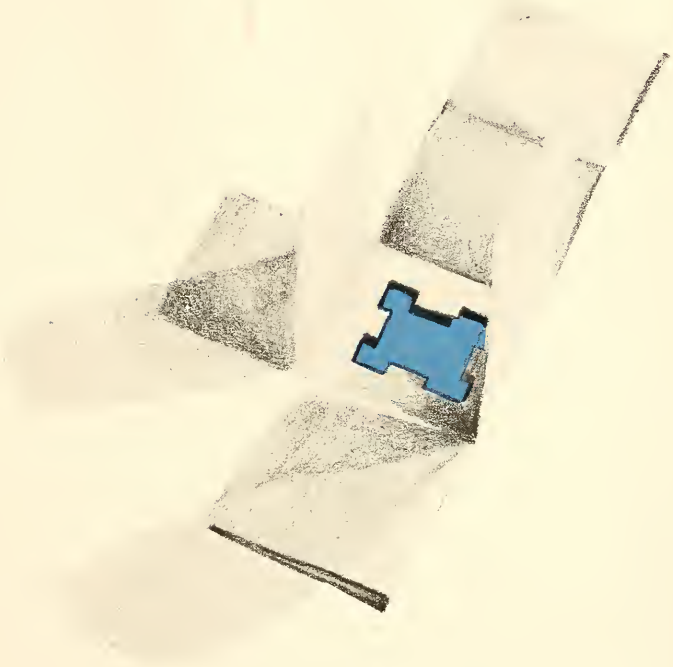
in our preparation.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC



A musician—the interpretive artist. Struggling to bring to life the design of a composer—the creative artist.

Music resembles poetry.

In each are nameless graces which no methods teach

but can be only felt by a sensitive spirit.

Musical training is a more potent instrument than any other because rhythm and harmony find their way into the inward places of the soul.

SCHOOL OF ART

We cannot see the shape of things to be.

Concept and completion

lie beyond our vision.

It remains for the creative to conceive of undreamt things.

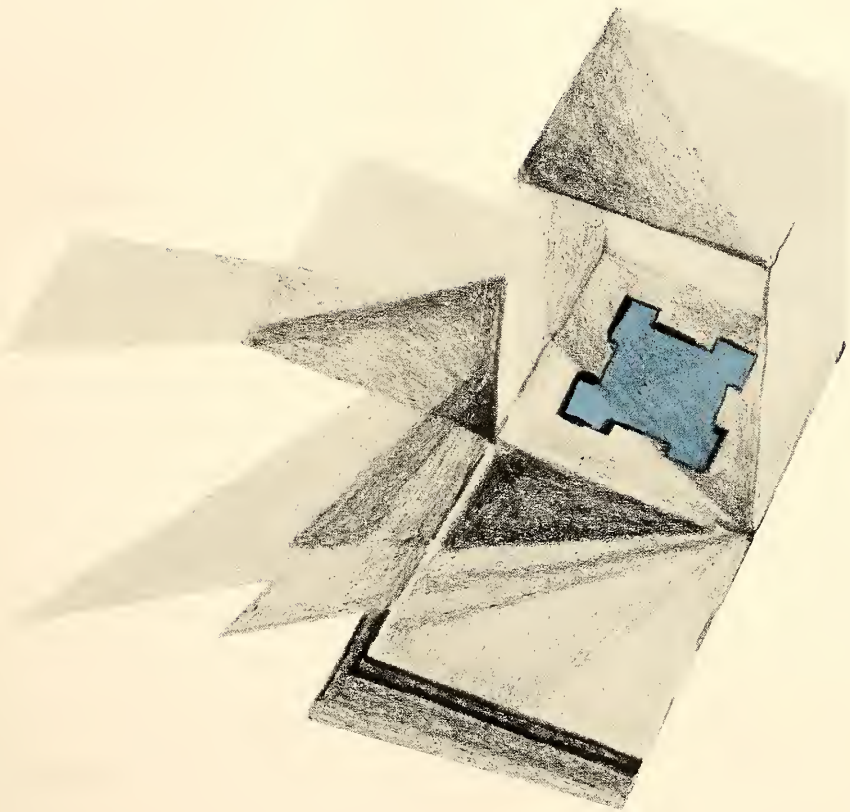
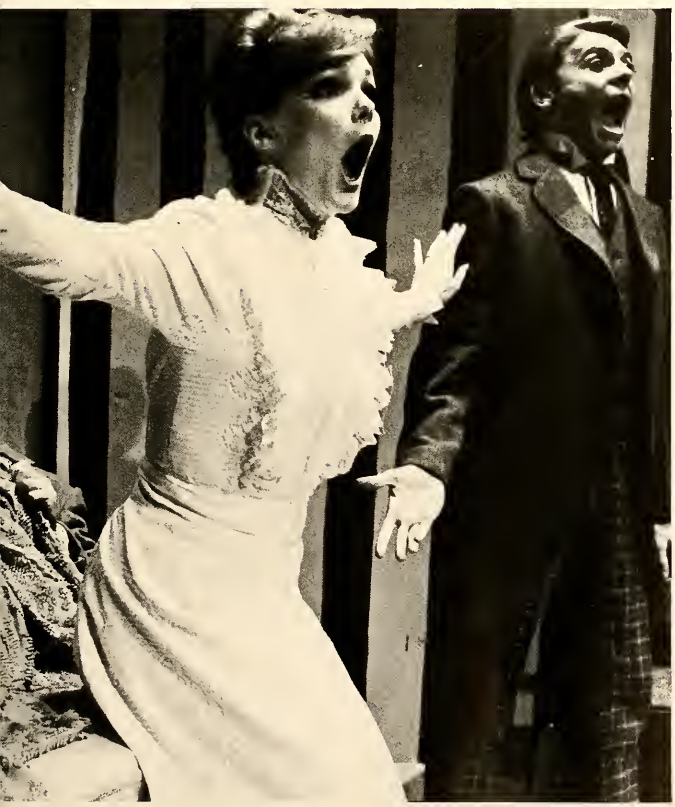
DO YOU LOVE IT
DO YOU HATE IT
THERE IT IS
THE WAY YOU MADE IT

SCHOOL OF DRAMA





The laughter
rings in our ears,
and for awhile
we have escaped into the world of fantasy.

A Flea in Her Ear

Enthusiasm and desire

for expression

carry us beyond

what is required.

In the brief moment

of a summer

we seek the peak

of creativity.

Man's dilemma exemplified

in the futility of war.

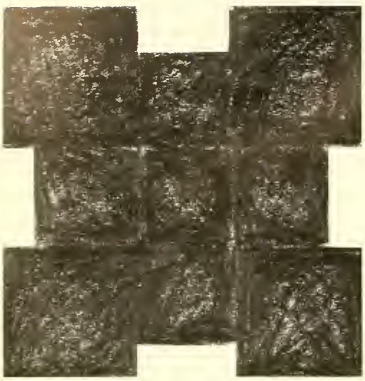
Initiators of conflict

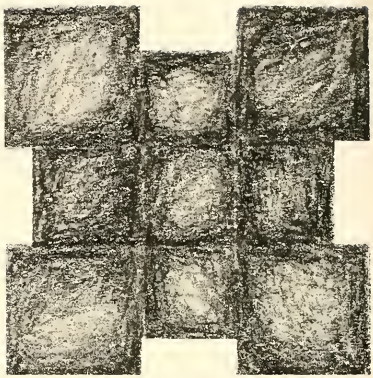
untouched by devastation.

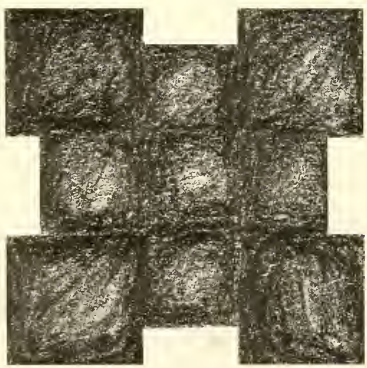
Tragedy befalling the innocent—

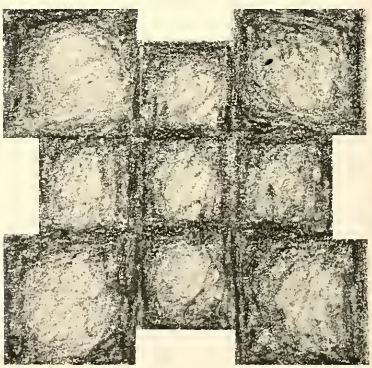
the unknown soldier and his wife.

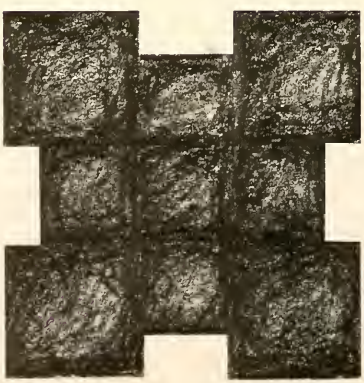
No aspect of the theatre can stand by itself. The success of the artistic whole is dependent on the success of each integral part.



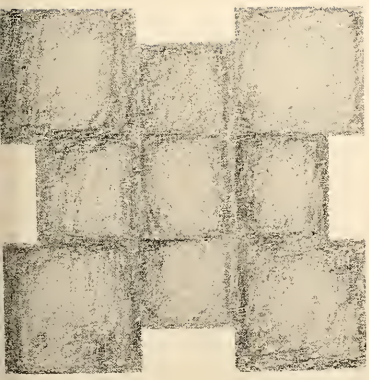








ACTIVITIES



We pay homage to the past.
In separate and diverse segments
we unite for a single tribute.
A tribute which seeks to unite the Wesleyan of today with memories of yesterday.

This is our finest day. We can look into the past and be proud.

We look at the present and see promise. And we assemble to prepare for the future.

She really is just one of us. But for one weekend, this special time of returning and remembering,
she is a queen. Vivacious and charming,
she extends the welcome of a campus which those seeking the past may not recognize.

A Festival of the Fine Arts—From varying aspects of the contemporary world we gather together those who can stimulate our imaginations.

Uniting the forms of creative expression

we immerse ourselves

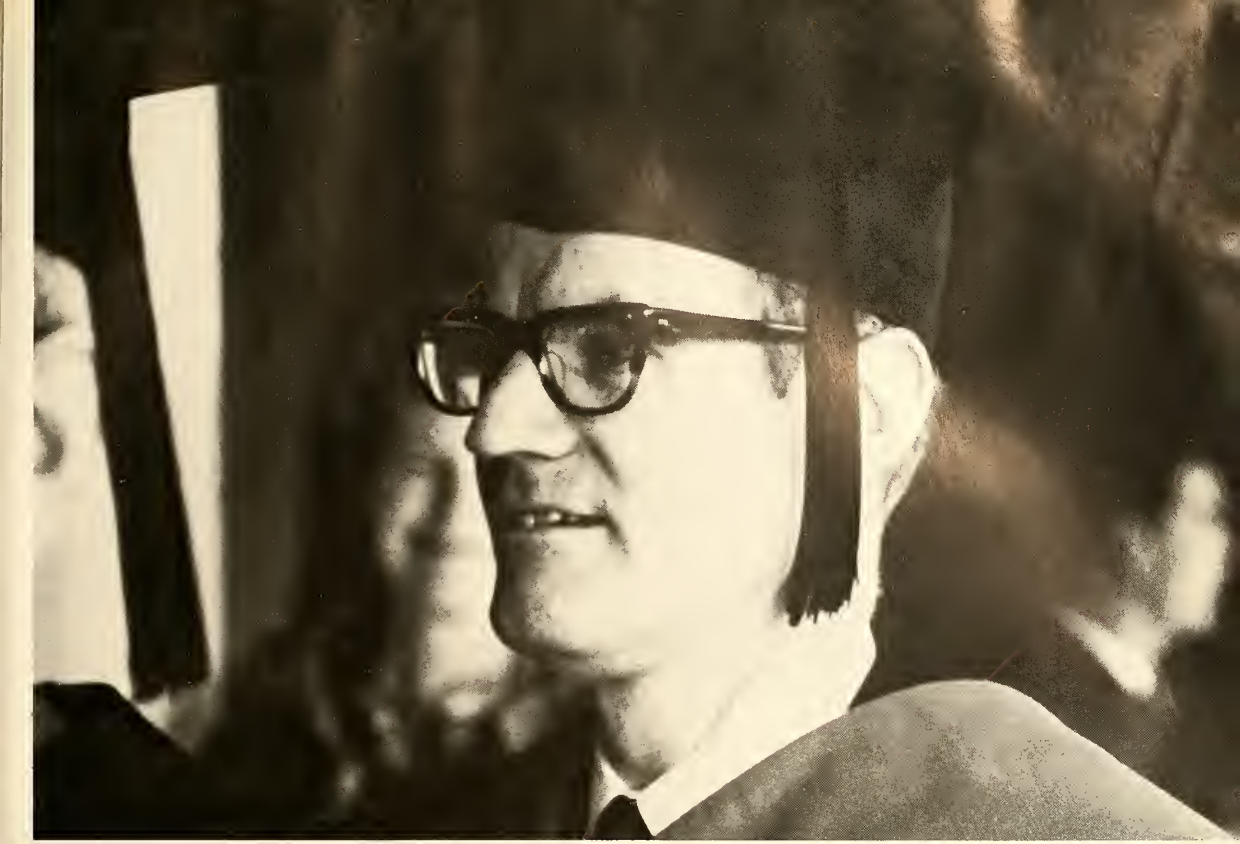
in personal impressions

of the art of our time.

Then the hour was at hand. . .

A long majestic walk, a ceremony filled with pomp and dignity.

Our fifteenth president, he exhorts us to be proud of our part in the evolution of educational opportunity.



We listen to the end,

and in our minds is one united thought. . .

It's over!

It's over!

It's over!

Thank God

it's over!

Now we must begin again.

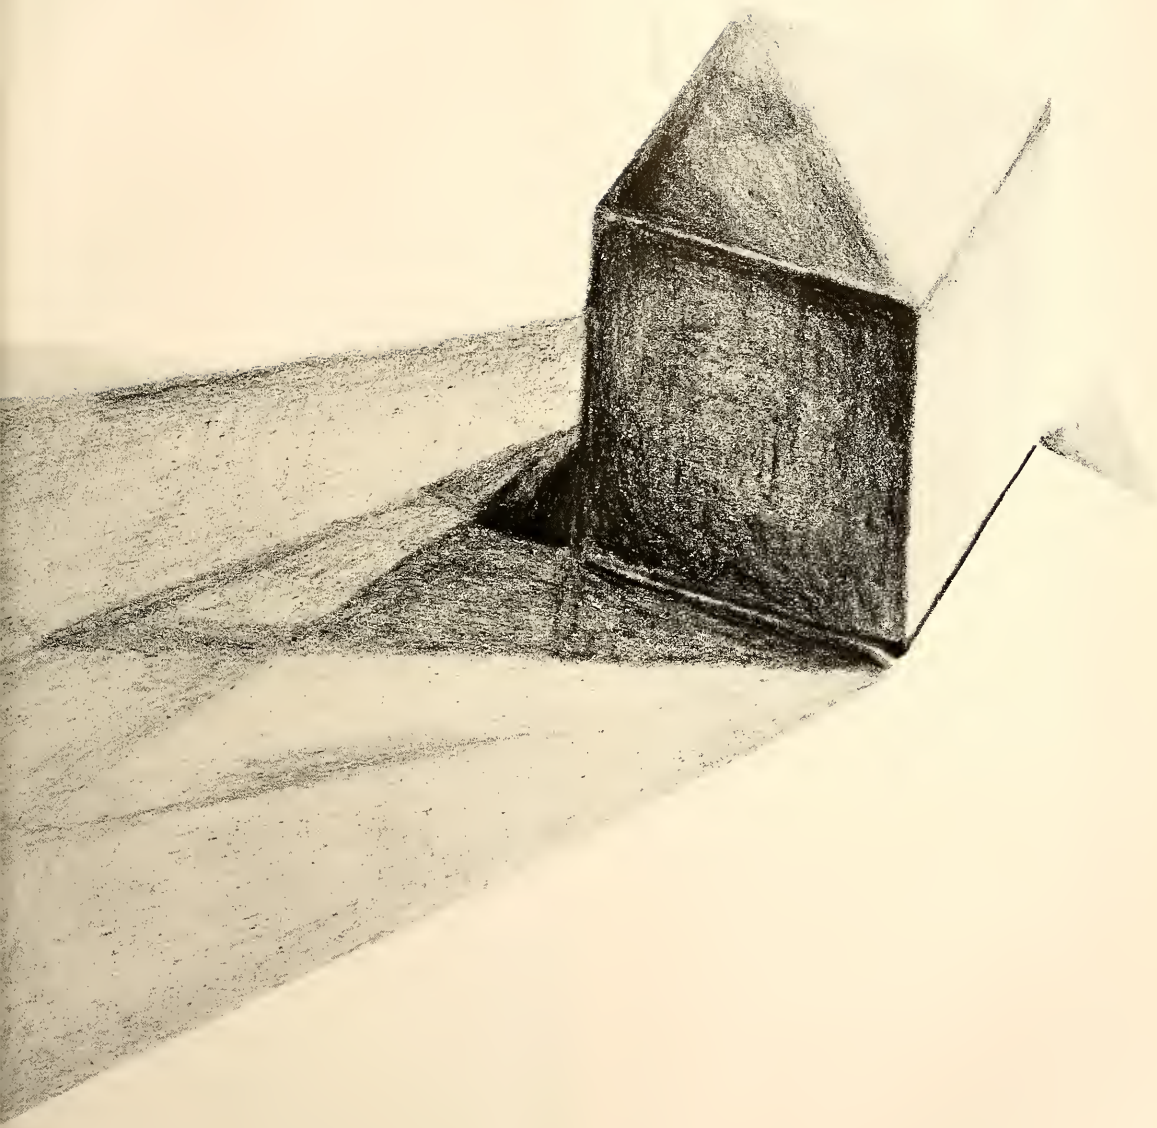
ATHLETICS



Objective, unyielding, statistics measure facts not performance. Our record implied victory unable to compensate early defeat, denying the triumph of concluding glory.

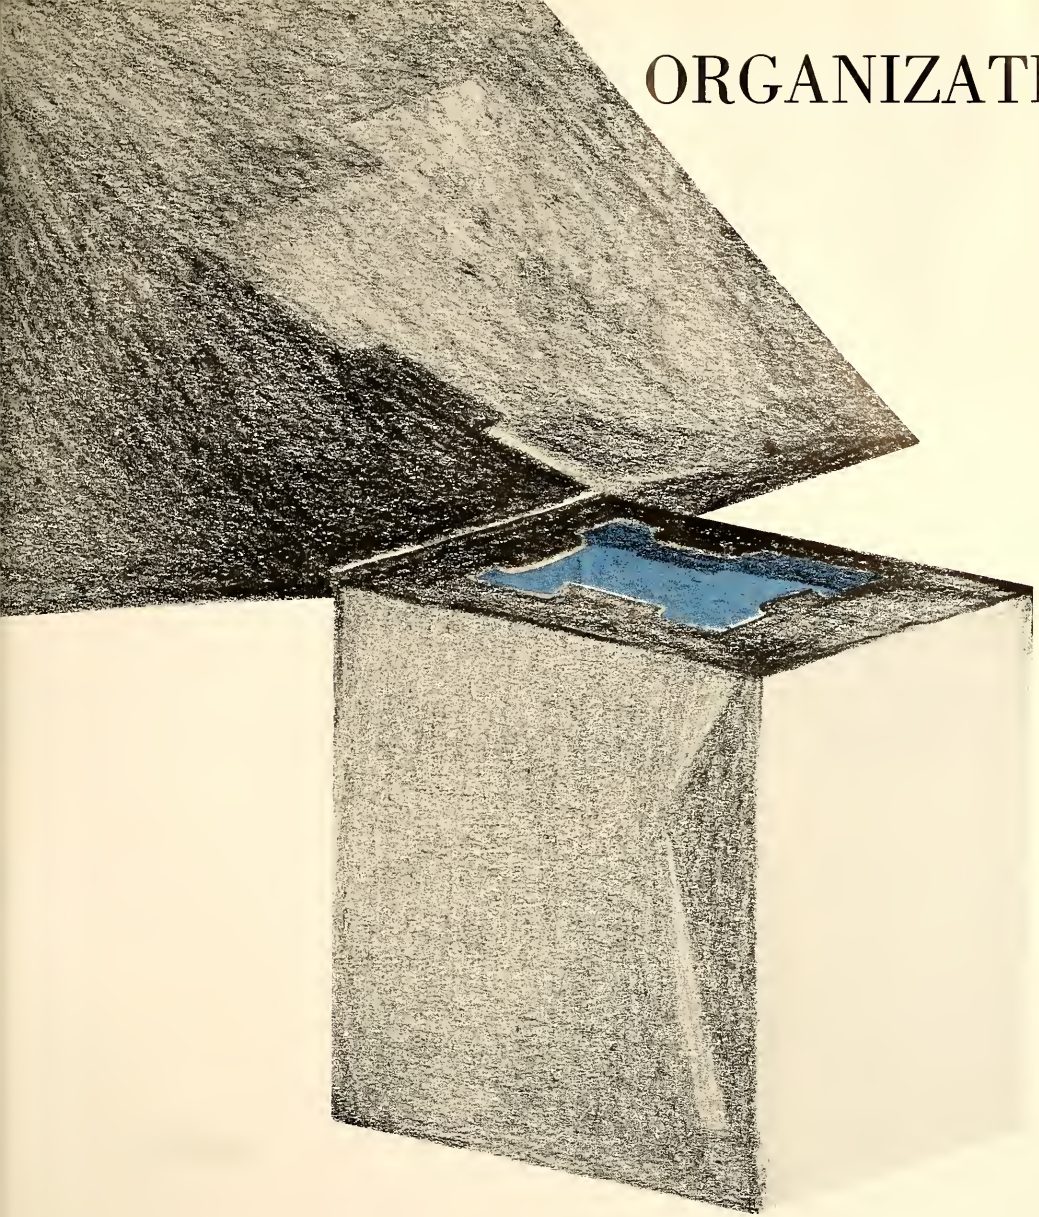
ORGANIZATIONS



Mark Sheldon . . . President
Earl Franz . . . Treasurer

The responsibility of leadership becomes a part of their lives. Their duties expand beyond written obligations, still they continue to work. Effort alone doesn't merit approval, but it deserves recognition.

Comprised of individuals but representative of the whole, Senate focuses on student concerns. Conflicts arise. Proposals for change encounter compromise, resistance. Objectives remain student involvement in the campus community.

By its nature subject to controversy—alternately praised and criticized—the Argus stimulates awareness, examines problems, clarifies issues. The realization of success—recognition as an All-American paper.

The body as a medium

. . . Yet among the mature
we do impart wisdom,
although it is not a wisdom of this age or of the rulers of this age, who are doomed to pass away. But we impart a secret and hidden wisdom of God . . .
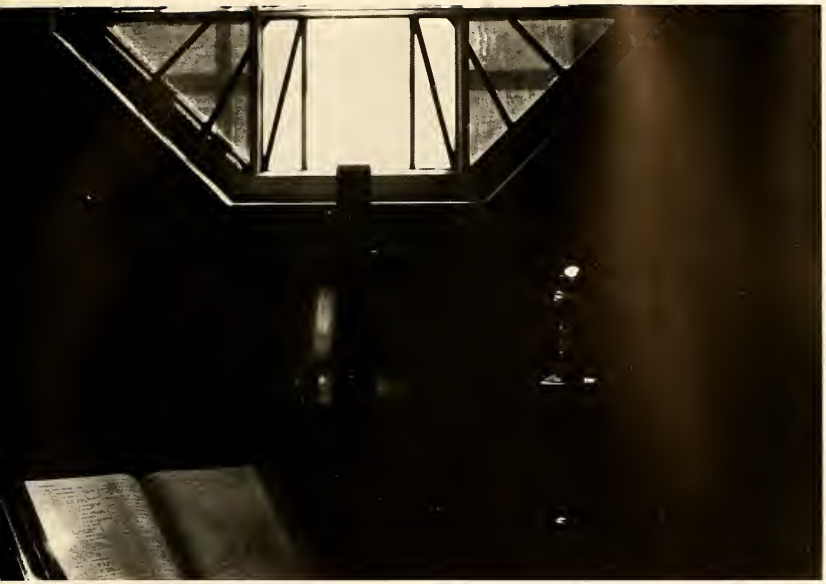
—I Corinthians 2:6,7



In memoriam . . .
Oliver C. Bridwell
Donald P. Schulz

The games people play—

of skill, of concentration.

Part of the total educational experience.

Caught in a whirlpool

of cultural nationalism.

Working, struggling to creatively solidify

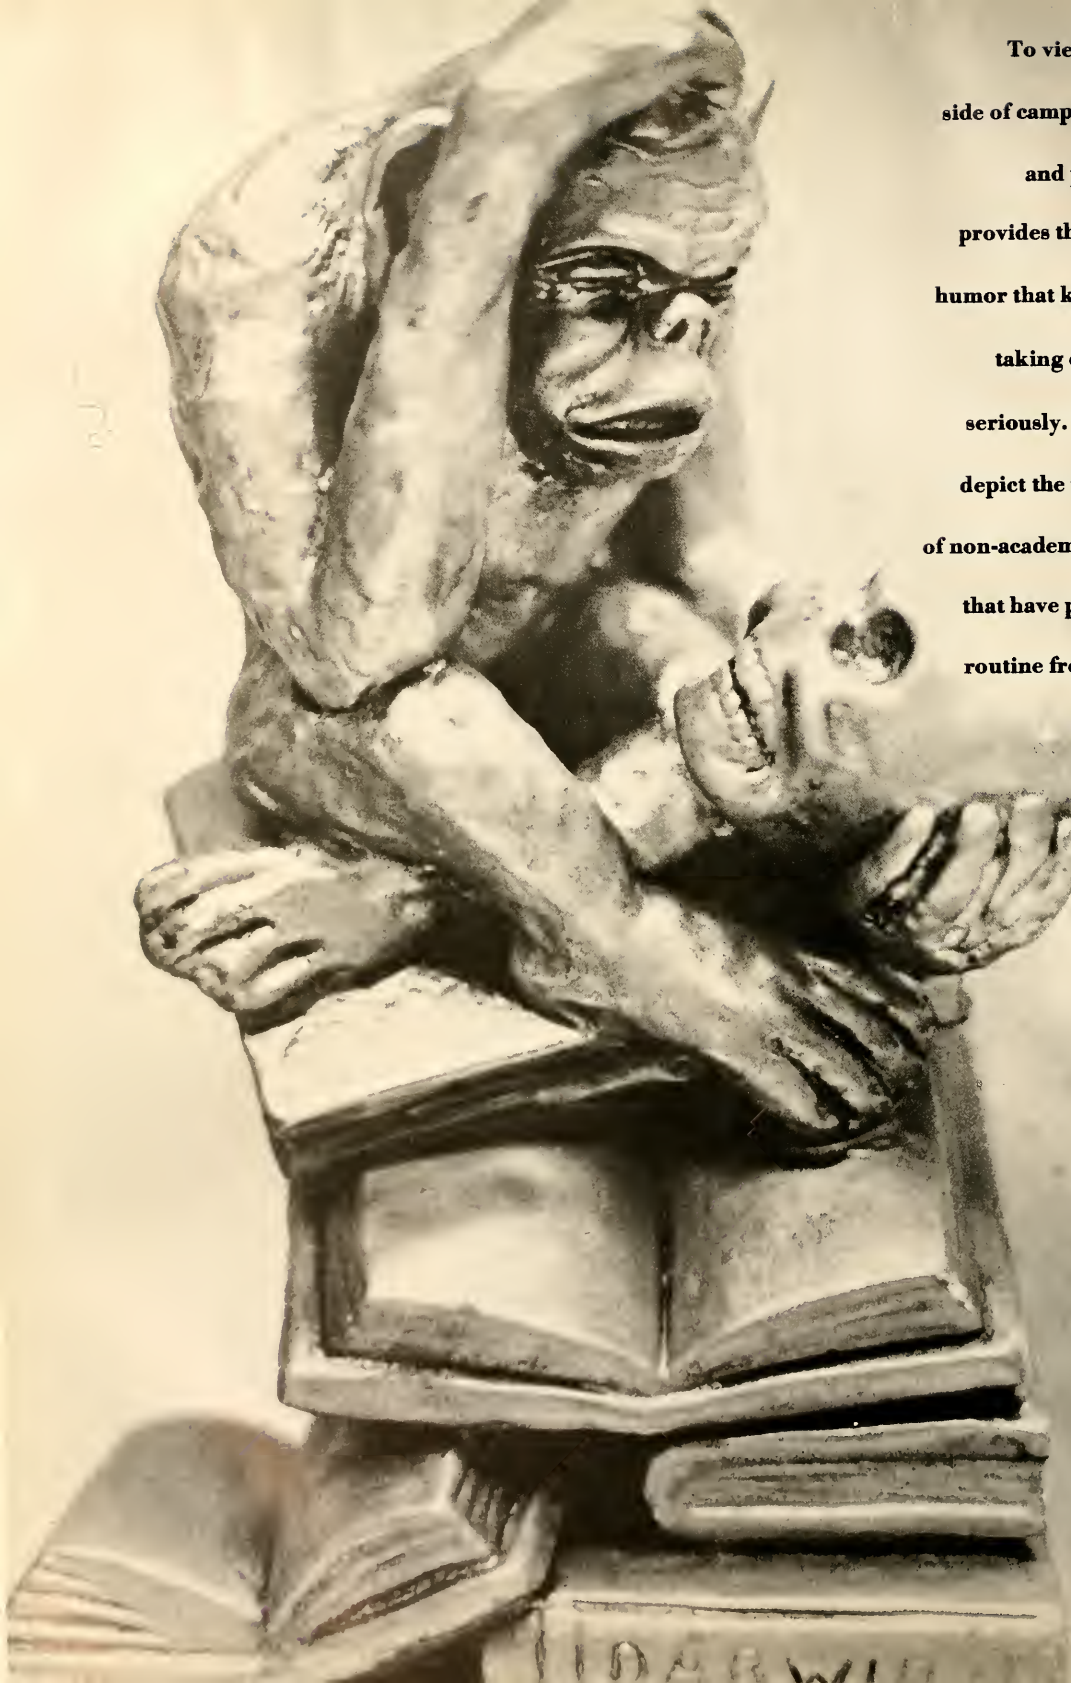
their own heritage.



To view the lighter side of campus incidents and personalities provides the element of humor that keeps us from taking ourselves too seriously. These pages depict the various areas of non-academic endeavors that have prevented the routine from becoming monotonous.

The We Try Harder Award Goes To:

The campus bookstore

The Attila the Hun Memorial Tact and Propriety Award Goes To:

Bob Sweet.

The Justice For All Award Goes To:

The English Department

Our Man in Washington: Terry Giroux.

With-Malice-For-None-And-Charity-For-All-Award:

Marvelous Mark Sheldon.

Timeless Controversy:

The Optional Hours Program.

Hidden Significance Department:

The Black Board.

Accomplishment of purpose, attainment of goals lead to another beginning. Departure creates emptiness and so we dream of going back. But the final result of the four-year process has given us new modes of perception. We discover that what we experienced was only for one time and only for one place. We prepare for the future no longer interrupted by dreams of the past. We possess an awareness of life. We have received the gift of education.
